10 Vie for Six School Board Posts

Ten candidates are officially in the race for six positions on three school boards in North San Mateo county.

Deadline for entering the race was Friday. Residents will vote on school board members and a special county highway bond issue April 16.

The most spirited contests should be waged in the Laguna Salada School district where five candidates—including one incumbent—will vie for two four-year terms.

On the other hand, in the Jefferson Union High School district, the contests will be, in effect, "no contest." Two incumbents are running unopposed for two board seats.

In the third district, Jefferson Elementary, two incumbents and a third candidate will seek election to two four-year board terms.

Here is a biographical sketch of each candidate:

LAGUNA SALADA

Robert T. Hale of 280 Paloma avenue, Pacifica, is seeking his fifth term on the board. He has served 13 years and was president in 1950, 1954 and 1961. He was the first chairman of the original union district.

A shop superintendent for the S&E Manufacturing company in San Carlos, he attended Los Angeles City college and is a navy veteran of World War II.

He is active in Boy Scout and United Crusaders work and has served as chairman of the Portola District of Boy Scouts. He and his wife, Dorothy, are the parents of two daughters, Dianne, 16, and Susan, 13, both students at Oceana High school.

Rodney A. Clark of 309 Genevieve avenue has been a Pacifica resident for the past four years. He is associate professor of education at San Francisco State college where he has taught for the past seven years.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Northwestern university, a master's degree from the University of Houston and a doctorate from Texas university. He is a member of the Pacifica Art Guild.

He and his wife, Sydney, are the parents of two boys, Karl, 9, and Aren, 7.

Rene L. Cardinal of 4 Durand court, Pacifica, is a controller for the United Parcel Service of San Francisco. He was born in Sierra county and has been a resident of Pacifica for the past 10 years.

A veteran of four years' service with the navy in World War II and a second hitch during the Korean War, he holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Woodbury college in Los Angeles.

He is a member of the San Francisco YMCA, a member of the San Francisco Archery club and the leader of a V-Indian Guides tribe. He and his wife, Mary, are the parents of three children: Laura, 9, Marsha, 7, and Michael 5, all students at Sanchez school.

Dale Emde of 1327 Crespi drive, Pacifica, is a pharmaceutical representative of the Warner-Chilcott Laboratories in New Jersey. He has lived in Pacifica for the past five years.

A graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara, he served with the army in Europe for four years during World War II and during the Korean War. He is a member of the United Cerebral Palsy association of San Mateo county. He and his wife, Enid, are the parents of Lionel, 6, Paul, 5, and Arthur, 4, all students at Ortega school.

Patricia Miller of 941 Rio Vista drive, Pacifica, has lived on the coast for the past 12 years. She is making her third run for a position on the Laguna board.

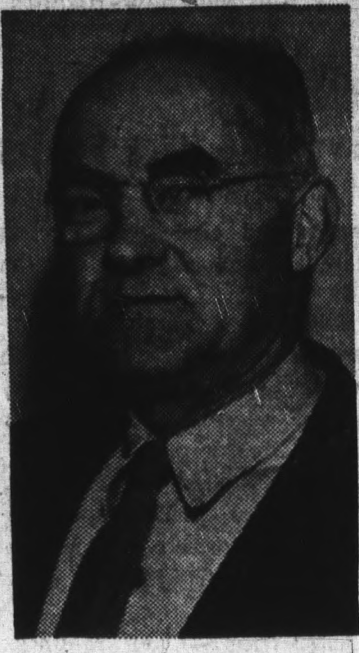

A graduate of Sacramento college, she is a charter member of the North Coastside Community council and has served on the executive boards of several P-TA groups. She served as secretary of the Laguna Salada Citizens Advisory Board on education.

She and her husband, Eugene, are the parents of five children: Robin, 12, Fred, 5, Linda, 8, Catherine, 12 and Lee, 14.

JEFFERSON HIGH

Lyal Ingersoll of 439 Crocker avenue, has been a member of the board since 1951. He served as its president from 1953 to 1956 and during the 1960-61 school year. He is now completing a two-year term.

He is a member of the Daly City-Colma Lions club, the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, Islam Temple, Scottish Rite and is a past master of Crocker Lodge 454, F&AM. He and his wife, Ann, are the parents of one son. He

Race for New Supervisor Post Begins—Unofficially

Three Indicate Strong Interest In '64 Election

By DON MILLER

The race for supervisor of a new district comprising Daly City, Pacifica and Half Moon Bay got underway — unofficially — this week when three well-known Daly City men indicated they were interested in running.

They are Mayor Joseph Verducci, Peter Markovich, manager of the city's Chamber of Commerce and Thomas Bocci, attorney.

All three declined to state specifically whether they would seek the new post, approved in a redistricting move last year, but left little doubt their interest in the position was strong.

Mayor Verducci declared: "Let's say I might definitely be interested, depending upon the outcome of some obstacles now existing."

Markovich commented: "I've more or less decided to run but I haven't completely made up my mind yet."

Bocci said: "I'm giving serious consideration to running." The new supervisorial district will become a fact next year. The first supervisor will be elected in June of 1964.

Supervisor Alvin Hatch who now represents a portion of the North County that would be included in the new district, declared this week:

"At the present time, I would say that I would not be running for the post."

He added, however, that "you never know about these things" and that "if enough people squeezed my arm I might run."

An octogenarian, Hatch is now in his twenty-seventh year as a supervisor.

Legal Considerations
Verducci said his candidacy's obstacles are tied up in possible legal complications over his job as director of athletics and assistant dean of students at San Francisco State college.

Since these are state positions, Verducci wants to determine whether state law would prohibit him from holding both his college posts and the supervisor's chair.

He indicated this week that as far as he has been able to determine, it would not.

Another factor that might prevent his holding both positions, Verducci added, is the attitude of a new board of trustees that is now at the head of the state college system. The trustees have not yet indicated their feelings.

The mayor, however, said the exact roles he fulfills at San Francisco State may have to be changed slightly to meet state requirements if he decided to run for the county post.

Councilman 12 Years
Verducci has been a Daly City councilman for the past 12 years.

His current term expires in April of 1964. If he should decide to run for supervisor, he would not be able to run again for councilman next year.

Verducci said that if all the legal aspects are cleared up satisfactorily, then "I'll have to make up my own mind." And he added:

"Then I'll have to talk it over with my wife."

Markovich, in revealing that he also is interested in the new supervisor post, explained he has been "approached" by parties (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Huge Postal Facility Set In Daly City

The largest postal facility in San Mateo county will be built in Daly City within the next eight months, according to Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

Plans were given to the successful bidder's architect Monday for refinement. Construction is expected to begin soon.

The new $350,000 facility will be the main Daly City post office. The present offices are in Daly City, Colma and Westlake, and another is planned in the vicinity of Mission and Crocker streets.

They will operate on a full-scale basis as branches.

The proposed post office under the direction of Postmaster Vincent Murphy, will occupy the entire block on Sullivan avenue from Eighty-eighth to Eighty-ninth avenues.

Robert and Jane Erving, 777 First avenue, San Jose, will construct the facility and lease the land and building to the Postal Department for 20 years—with an option to renew for 10 more years.

The facility will give the Daly City-Colma system much needed room, according to Murphy.

It will provide 23,670 square feet of working space and 39,670 square feet of parking and maneuvering area for postal vehicles.

The new facility will be available for the 1963 Christmas rush. The lease plan, Younger said, enables the postal department to obtain required facilities with outlay of capital only for postal equipment.

Another advantage, he said, is that the property stays on the local tax roll, providing tax income for both the city and county.

Brisbane Moves on Area Annex

Brisbane city council moved with dispatch at a brief meeting Monday night to take another step toward annexation of industrial acreage along the Bayshore.

No further verbal or oral protests were received on the recommendation, so council recommended modification of proposed boundaries to eliminate a small parcel, 326 by 670 feet, bounded by Geneva avenue, Schwerin street, Saipan road and the Bayshore. This area is occupied by a Pacific Gas & Electric company warehouse building and storage area. Purpose of the modification was to remove an area of controversy in the hopes that the annexation proposals will go more smoothly.

The next step will be to refer the proposed annexation to the state boundary commission for review. The entire hearing on this annexation subject was completed in 25 minutes.

Legal action brought by the Bayshore City Sanitary District against the annexation proposal will resume in Superior Court in Redwood City tomorrow.

The move, to make room for the new Junipero Serra freeway, will leave the North County area without emergency facilities until 1965 when the proposed Mary's Help hospital will be completed.

The closest facilities to take care of emergency cases will be 20 minutes away at Peninsula hospital in Burlingame.

The deadline has had one extension already. The hospital

Coast Policeman Tops State Class

A Pacifica police officer has finished first in a statewide class on juvenile law enforcement.

Otto Saltenberger, who works the graveyard shift on the coastside force, was the only police officer from San Mateo county in the class held last month at Asilomar.

The six-day course was given by the California Youth Authority and University of Southern California Delinquency Control Institute.

A special commendation for Saltenberger from the Youth Authority was read by City Manager Karl Baldwin to the Pacifica city council last week.

Regardless of the cost, the city attorney and police department should trace owners and charge them for towing autos, Minshaw said.

City Manager Karl Baldwin told the council that a Palmetto avenue wrecking yard was unable to hold all of the wrecked and abandoned autos being towed off city streets by police.

He said the yard proprietor had asked permission to double stack the autos until they could be disposed of.

When Palmetto avenue residents objected to the proposed stacking on the grounds it would be an eyesore, councilmen asked the city manager to investigate using yards in Daly City or South San Francisco.

Emory Lebonville of Westview urged the city to prosecute some motorists to make an example of them.

K.O. Polio Round III Begins

The third round of the K. O. Polio immunization program will be held Sunday at a number of places in the Bay Area.

The Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine will be provided for people of all ages, at the following locations in the North County area.

In Daly City:
Fernando Rivera School, 101 Lake Merced boulevard.

Westmoor High school, 131 Westmoor avenue.

Colma Upper school, 601 Market street.

Ben Franklin school, 700 Stewart avenue.

In Pacifica:
Linda Mar school, Rosita and Adobe streets.

Oceana High school, Belle Vista avenue.

Several groups have volunteered their services to help in the immunization program.

When asked if he will handle emergency cases at either of the two locations, he replied, "We'll handle whatever comes to us."

Emergency cases will have to be transported to Peninsula hospital in Burlingame, although Alameda Emergency hospital in San Francisco is only two miles away from the Daly City Hall.

Because the San Francisco county emergency hospitals are set up on a tax-supported basis, they are unavailable to residents of San Mateo county.

Gate Bridge Photos Lure New Teachers

Photos of Daly City schools, with a view of the Golden Gate Bridge prominently in the background, seemed to be most effective in recruiting teachers, Jefferson Elementary district superintendent Richard Foster told trustees Monday night.

"Teachers come to Daly City primarily because it is close to San Francisco and they are more interested in group teaching conditions than salary schedules," he said.

Foster reported Monday a the results of a survey undertaken to see which point seemed more important to stress in recruiting new teachers. Foster said that teachers were also impressed with the information that San Francisco State college was nearer to Daly City than many parts of San Francisco.

That Daly City recruiting methods are effective was pointed out Monday by assistant superintendent David Shapiro. He said, that after a visit by a Jefferson hiring team to an out-of-state teachers' college, the district received an application from the director of placement, himself.

Two new teachers, Mrs. Jan Belkman, graduate of University of Pacific and Miss Andrea Gross, Northwestern university, were employed for the coming year.

Frank Balestreri was employed as custodian at Upper Colma school. Teachers Eloise Aranel (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Fur Coats and School Problems Compared

State Assemblyman Leo Ryan compared fur and cloth coats to school problems in a speech last week at the Fernando Rivera P-TA founder's day meeting.

Textbooks, educational costs, unification and teachers were some of the topics discussed by Ryan. He noted:

"We all must look to the cost and worth of our educational program."

"When a husband gives his wife a fur coat instead of a cloth," he said, "the family budget will be affected and must be adjusted to compensate for it."

Education is expensive, he pointed out, "but we are getting our money's worth."

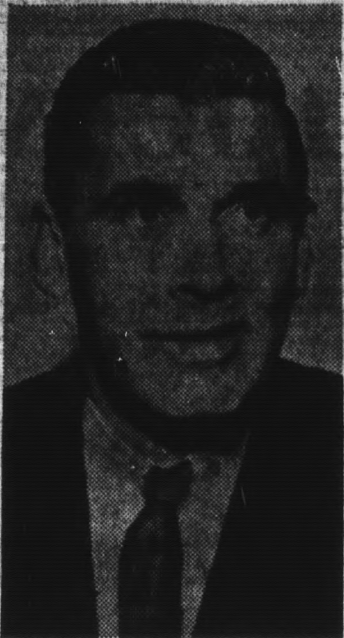

The assemblyman noted that the amount of financial support given by the state to school districts has dropped from 50 to 36 per cent of their total expenses. This means that property tax rates have increased to a higher and higher level, he added.

Tax Relief

"In order to relieve the local property tax burden, the state has to find between 90 and 100 million dollars to be used to bring the ratio between state support and local support back to the 50-50 basis," he continued. "The property tax as a source for school revenues, in many areas, has reached its upper limit."

Ryan has been named vice chairman of the Assembly's educational committee.

He said that a suggested county-wide school tax could possibly be a means of alleviating some of the financial problems of individual districts where assessed valuation is insufficient.

On the quality of education, Ryan said, "the old Ichibud Crane type of education is passe. Many changes are needed and will be forthcoming to improve our school system."

Unification, he observed, is one of the most important things to come before us in years. And he added:

"It makes no difference where children go to school," he said. "Each child has the right to expect an education that will prepare him for the future in a complex society."

On the qualitative concepts of teaching, Ryan issued a challenge, urging teachers to "spark the interest of the child to explore."

"Teachers should be critical of themselves," he said, "and in so doing would improve their worth to the school district and to the children involved."

On textbooks, Ryan said the state must come up with books that force a child to willingly open and read them. He cited the Seuss books as an example of a good text.

He said he has seen books in use today that have the same sentences, grammar and ideas that were in similar books 30 years ago.

Unification Talk

O. Wayne Douglas, trustee on the Jefferson Elementary school Board, spoke on unification in the North county. He said board members were in favor of the unification principle but plan to study the "how, when and with whom" of the unity plan.

Life memberships were presented at the P-TA meeting to Mrs. Armand Carrara and Mrs. Leslie Marino, past officers of the P-TA.

Taking part in a skit on the history of the P-TA were students Pam Colman, Heidi Barker, Margie Markovich, Nancy Hopkins, Linda Marino, Linda Herbert, Roz Coleman, Tena Forman, Cindy Tanner, Vickie Budea, Chris Cannon, Karen Molivich, Robert Smice, Andy Poggio, Kathy George, Pam Sousa, Melyne Gargone, Candy Sousa, and Pat Crandall.

holds a honorary life membership with the Jefferson High school P-TA. He and his wife, Ann, are the parents of a son, Ira.

James M. Cooper of 856 Dell road, Pacifica, joined the board in 1959 and served as vice president in 1960-61. He has been its president since 1962. Since 1962, he has been a director of the San Mateo County School Board association.

A graduate of Golden Gate college in San Francisco, he has been with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce since 1948 and is now assistant manager in the chamber's transportation department.

He has been active in school work in various capacities since 1957 and is a member of the San Francisco Traffic club and the Association of Interstate Commerce and the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department. He and his wife, Lydia, are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth; a freshman at the College of San Mateo and a son, James, a junior at Terra Nova High School.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY

Joseph Lewkowitz of 277 San Fernando way, Daly City, has been a member of the board since 1953. He is seeking his fourth term and has been a resident of Daly City since 1959.

For the past three years, he has been the treasurer for Daly City. He also is associated with Charles Groper Real Estate. He is a member of a score of civic, charitable and fraternal organizations and is a charter member of the Chamber of Commerce.

He and his wife, Sarah, are the parents of seven children, two of whom are now in school. The remainder have graduated from schools in the Jefferson Elementary and High school districts. The children are Darlene, Frances, Terry, Victor, John, Charles and Joseph Jr.

O. Wayne Douglas of 1147 Southgate avenue in Daly City is seeking his second four-year term on the board. He was first elected in 1959 and served as president in 1961-62.

He holds bachelors and law degrees from Ohio State university and is a tax attorney for Standard Oil company of California. He practiced law in Columbus, Ohio, and in Alaska before coming to California. He served in the army in Europe during World War II and has lived in Daly City since 1954.

He is active in Boy Scout work. He and his wife, Nara, are the parents of a son, Stephen, 14, a student at Ben Franklin school. Mayre A. Albert of 3 Royce way, Daly City, has been a resident of the city for the past 14 years. She is making her second run for a position on the board.

A member of the Daly City Library commission and the Friends of the Library, she also is president of the auxiliary of Veterans of World War I, 1620, treasurer of the Hillside Improvement club, and a member of Native Daughters of California and the League of Women Voters.

She and her husband, Le Roy, are the parents of four girls and two boys and the grandparents of 13 children.

who would like to see him run.

"I'm feeling my way around and seeing what kind of support I can get," he observed.

Markovich has been manager of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce for nearly a decade. He has been active in a raft of civic and charitable organizations and drives over the years.

Bocci indicated that he has his law practice to consider in reaching a decision on running for the new post. He added, however, that "I'm interested in the job."

Plays Key Role

In the past few weeks, he has played a key role in helping a group of Bayshore City residents oppose a move by Brisbane to annex 10,000 acres of Bayshore industrial land.

In addition to the three Daly City men, at least two other North County leaders have been mentioned in some circles as possible candidates: Councilwoman Jean Fessler and Councilman Harold Feyge.

Mrs. Fessler said this week: "I've had a number of people contact me about running but I haven't made up my mind one way or another."

Feyge also said he had been approached about seeking the office but added that his decision would depend largely upon who else decided to seek the job.

Although the new supervisor will be elected by all the voters of the county, candidates must reside in the supervisorial district.

Annex-Gets Approval of Plan Group

Annexation of the inhabited portion of Bayshore City was approved by the Daly City Planning Commission last Tuesday.

The recommendation was a formal action requested by the council last month when consideration was first given to annexation of the Bayshore property.

The move complies with requirements set forth in state annexation laws.

The commission approved all items on the agenda. Included were four applications for signs, a rezoning and a lot variance. Signs approved were:

Coast Neon Signs, an illuminated "Used Cars" sign at 6232 Mission street; Wesley Methodist church, a non-illuminated plywood sign west of Skyline Plaza; Nell's Fashions, an illuminated sign at 110 Skyline Plaza and Brooks United Signs, a non-illuminated directory sign for St. Francis Shopping center.

The commission approved an application by Westlake Investment company, 333 Park Plaza drive, to rezone property south of the Union Service station on South Mayfair from commercial to multiple dwelling.

A lot coverage increase from the maximum requirement of 50 to 60 per cent was given to Mitchell Luzzi of 856 Lausanne avenue.

Younger Cuts Office Costs

Federal payroll costs for the office of Congressman J. Arthur Younger of San Mateo for January were reported as $3655.

The costs for Younger's six-member staff is thirtieth lowest on the list of California's 38 congressmen. House members are limited to nine employees at government expense, except that congressmen from districts having more than 500,000 people may have 10 employees. Many of those with higher costs also had more employees than Younger. Eight California congressmen had their wives on the payroll, it was reported.

Pacifica Adopts Anti-Litter Law

Pacifica city councilmen last week approved an "anti-litter" ordinance, but one which does not prohibit newspapers from being deposited freely on homeowners' doorsteps.

There had been some agitation to prohibit distribution of shopping guides, handbills, and free newspapers, according to some reports.

Councilmen agreed this would be an infringement of constitutionally guaranteed freedom of the press.

The ordinance was instigated by residents in the Westview section, because of continuing problems in that area.

It allows the city to clean up a homeowner's property, if the owner does not, and then allows the city to bill the owner. If he does not pay, the city can put a lien against the property.

Councilmen also approved an ordinance making garbage collection mandatory, and setting fees and other regulations on the service.

Some 35 residents of Rockaway Beach appeared, protesting the proposed Linda Mar Tract 29, which is before the council for approval of tentative maps.

Rockaway residents said the new subdivision would create drainage and traffic problems which would overwhelm their comparatively tiny neighborhood.

Large plots of new homes would require present landowners to form an assessment district, they complained, in order to provide wider streets for the new residents to travel. The wider streets would cut into their small properties, residents said, and create traffic hazards beyond the capacity of present roads.

The council approved tentative maps for Doelger subdivision Fairmont Two, and agreed to Art Guild plans for an art festival on Mother's Day weekend.

New taxi rates given council approval allow cabbies to charge 50 cents the first fifth mile, and ten cents each additional fifth mile.

60 hours of instruction and had to pass two examinations.

Saltenberger started his police work on the coastside, beginning with the Pacifica police department four years ago.

A native of San Francisco, he formerly was a pipefitter in shipyards and served with the U. S. Navy for three years after the Korean War.

He and his wife, an accountant for a San Francisco firm, live at 115 Juanita avenue, Pacifica.

95 Gallons Every Day In Daly City

Each Daly City resident used an average of 95 gallons per day in 1962, the city's water department has reported.

Water consumption in the city totaled 1,664,632,500 gallons during 1962 or an average daily consumption of more than 4,500,000 gallons per day.

Ninety per cent of the city's consumption was pumped from its subterranean wells while the remaining 10 per cent was received from San Francisco water sources.

Pizza Parlor Due for Coast

Pacifica's former Faraway Places, which specialized in imports and was a landmark on the coast highway near Vallejo, will become a pizza parlor, it was announced last week.

The new owner, Doris Lantz, has registered her application for a beer and wine license at 2125 Coast Highway. To be called "Original No. 1 Pizza," the restaurant will specialize in Italian dinners.

The establishment will open in about six weeks after extensive interior remodeling.

School Site Cost Can't Be Resolved

Laguna Salada School district officials and developers of Willow Brook estates in Pacifica have been unable to agree on a price for an elementary school site in the area. The issue will probably be taken to court, officials said.

James T. Telegram, speaking for the Willow Brook developers, said attempts at negotiating sale of five lots chosen for the school site have failed.

He added that the school district's offer was too low to be acceptable to his group.

The school district already has instituted condemnation proceedings against the land, located at the end of Perez drive in Linda Mar.

Willow Brook estates includes some 90 acres south of Linda Mar that will be developed into one-quarter to one-acre lots for custom home building.

St. Edmond's Episcopal church has purchased the first four lots in the subdivision for a new church building.

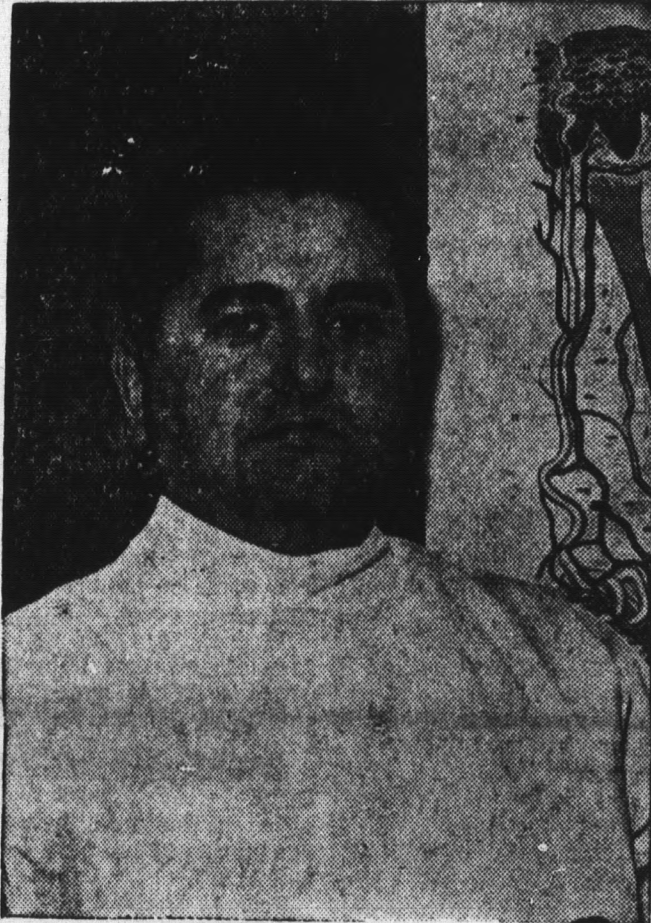

Construction of public improvements, including roads, sewers, curbs and gutters, is about thirty per cent complete. Bad weather has delayed this work, contractors report.

WILL DEMONSTRATE REMARKABLE NEW METHODS THAT HELP GROW THICKER HAIR, STOP BALDNESS, A REGULAR 30-MINUTE TUROFF SCALP TREATMENT FOR $2 NEXT 8 DAYS ONLY

I've Given Over 1 Million Scalp Treatments — (a Record) to Happy Californians, in Many Turoff Offices. If YOU Have a Hair Problem—See Us! Now in Westlake

Our new permanent Westlake Clinic brings these amazing methods to your door! If you have a hair loss problem, visit us! IT'S A FABULOUS EXPERIENCE.

S. I. Turoff, Director, Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts, announces establishment of the ninth permanent Turoff Clinic in California, in Westlake. This Westlake Clinic is in response to hundreds of requests from local residents. Turoff is present in person in the Westlake Branch.

"I find that the chief cause of baldness today is simply neglect! Failure on the part of a balding person to see a specialist before it is too late!"

So says S. I. Turoff, California's leading hair authority. This specialist has administered over a million treatments in many busy Turoff clinics throughout California. For many years, hair worried Californians have brought their problems to him to solve. The satisfaction of these hundreds of thousands of clients reflects in the tremendous growth of the Turoff organization.

HAIR EXPERT SPEAKS

And Turoff further states, "It is surprising the number of old-fashioned ideas people still cling to regarding their hair."

For instance, many believe that baldness is inherited. If that were true, why would a person have hair for — say 30 years — before he started to lose it? We may inherit a tendency to baldness, not baldness itself. Some people believe it is 'natural' to get bald with age. This, too, is wrong. Science has proven that hair grows fastest between 35 and 60 years of age. However, the most foolish belief of all regarding baldness is that nothing can be done. Turoff records, with thousands of clients, prove that we can help 95 per cent of those we examine. Hair can be thickened where the roots are still alive. If a person is 'slick bald,' we do not accept him for treatment."

WHAT TO EXPECT

Turoff continued, "If you are accepted for Turoff treatment, the causes of your unhealthy scalp will be removed, we will save and thicken your hair. The free examination will reveal just how much thicker you can expect it to be. 'Your hair will improve wonderfully and you will see it do so quickly! Furthermore, we will teach you how to maintain a head of hair permanently! The cost for treatment is very reasonable. Remember, we cater to working people — Mr. and Mrs. Average Person. It's easy to make the time for treatment, our hours are 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily (Thursday 4-8 p.m.), 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays. No appointment is needed — come in any time. Don't wait! Baldness can get to be hopeless."

A Personal Message From S. I. Turoff

Exciting is the word for the amazing new developments in the scalp-culture field, perfected by Turoff technicians in our laboratories. If you have a hair problem you owe it to yourself to see us! A permanent Westlake Turoff Clinic has been established, in answer to many requests. If our free examination shows we can help you, I'll offer you a regular trial treatment for $2.00. No appointment needed. This is an exciting experience. Don't miss it. Sincerely, S. I. TUROFF

Superintendent Foster reported flu shots had been given to 173 teachers and school employees at a cost of $187.85. The board authorized booster shots to be given on the same basis.

Board members and school administrators will travel to Bremerton, Wash., March 28-29, to inspect a successful school lunch program for possible adoption in Jefferson Elementary schools.

Assistant superintendent Shapiro said "that in Bremerton all school meals are prepared in central kitchens and transported by truck to various schools. Food is served in assembly-line fashion on plastic throw-away containers and children eat from these, even in the classroom," Shapiro said.

The next Jefferson board meeting will be March 18.

Festival Planned

Pacifica will conduct its first arts festival over Mother's Day weekend, May 11-12. Otis Strong of the Pacifica Arts guild announced plans for the show at City Council meeting last week.

Artists from San Mateo county will be invited to exhibit in displays to be set up in various sections of the coastside city.

The Laguna Salada School district and American Association of University Women will co-operate in presenting a children's art program.

The city's dramatic society, Pacifica Players, and the Pacifica Community Chorus, will offer special performances.

The newly organized Friends of the Pacifica Library will sponsor a book display.

Strong said Art Guild members hope the Festival will be successful enough to become an annual affair.

CTA Backs Textbook Revise Bill

The California Teachers' association in Burlingame is backing the Winton bill to revise the system of textbook selection for California public schools.

The association's stand, announced last Wednesday, supports Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, on the issue.

Governor Brown and Thomas W. Baden, state board of education president, have declared opposition to the Winton bill. They contend the present system of selection of a basic text to be supplied free by the state assures that every child will get the best book.

The bill by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton, D-Merced, proposes that the state board of education approve a list of three or four satisfactory texts in each field and allow local school boards to choose from these in any year. Brown and Baden argue this method would greatly increase the cost of textbooks.

Winton concedes publishers would ask prices higher than now asked on large volume purchases. But Winton contended the prices would be no more than 10 per cent higher and these costs would be offset by local board savings on book purchases.

He said a 1960 survey showed that local districts had spent between $2 million and $3 million to buy books to replace state texts. Such purchases would not be necessary if his bill passes, Winton said.

NORTH COUNTY NOSTALGIA—Fifty Daly City and Colma residents turned out last week at Lincoln Park clubhouse for a "get acquainted" meeting of the San Mateo County Historical society. Participating were, from left, Mayor Joseph Verducci; Dr. Frank Stanger, society executive secretary; J. Hart Clinton, president; Francis A. Guido, recording secretary; Elmer Kennedy, Daly City fire chief, and Arthur Bodien, pioneer Daly City resident and former city councilman. Kennedy and Bodien presented a series of slides depicting Daly City and Colma history. (Post-Times photo)

Historical Society Meets Here

By MONTE DAYTON

Would you like a jug of wine and a good Italian dinner for 35 cents, topped off with an afternoon of dog racing at the coursing park behind Jefferson High school?

You'd have to go back more than a half century in Daly City's history to enjoy these pleasures.

The low cost of living and the sometimes higher cost of recreation were among a pot pourri of recollections enjoyed by some 50 persons who attended a special meeting of the San Mateo County Historical association in Daly City's Lincoln clubhouse last week.

The "get-acquainted" session of the historical society attracted many of Daly City-Colma area's pioneers, including Supervisor Louis Chess and Thomas Callan Sr., former member of the county board of supervisors. Both recounted numerous incidents in Daly City's colorful growth.

The program was launched with a showing of slides depicting Daly City's infant years in the early 1900's.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Arthur Bodien, former councilman and long-time Daly City resident, presented the slides and described significant events from the past.

The remainder of the program was devoted to audience participation on topics ranging from the famed Broderick-

Terry duel site to the inauguration of the first scheduled train through Daly City—the San Francisco and San Jose railroad—100 years ago.

Recent research on the site of the famed duel has confirmed the location as being just north of Westlake Estates (east of Lake Merced boulevard), Dr. Frank Stanger, executive secretary of the historical society, reported.

Dr. Stanger said a plaque commemorating the 1859 battle which resulted in the death of Senator Broderick and abruptly ended dueling in California is situated almost precisely where the event took place.

Mayor Joseph Verducci pledged the full support of Daly City in helping maintain the site and promoting interest in the commemorative plaque.

Clinton appealed to the audience to consider membership in the society and to encourage other Daly City residents to take an active interest in the community's early history.

Refreshments were served by the Daly City Fire Department Ladies' auxiliary.

Acting as hostesses for the auxiliary were: the Mesdames Allen Brush, Patrick Cunneen, Paul De Natale and Melvin Hanson.

Kendree Attends Retail Seminar

Jack Kendree, managing director of the Westlake Shopping center, is in Lansing, Mich., this week, attending a management seminar at the University of Michigan.

Topics to be discussed at the week-long shopping center program include advertising, promotion, leasing, taxes and other subjects in retailing.

"Retail business today is 40 per cent know-how and 60 per cent organized excitement," Kendree said, emphasizing the importance of "hard-hitting promotions."

The shopping center executive said management seminars—such as the one he is attending—enable retailers to keep abreast of new trends and innovations that help shopping center merchants boost sales and profits.

Kendree cited the recent Washington's Birthday Cherry Cake Day in Westlake as an example of a well-planned, well-promoted event that brought thousands of extra customers to the center and thousands of dollars in extra business.

"Since this was the first year that we had attempted an opening on this holiday, there were many obstacles to be overcome," Kendree explained.

"Many hours of hard work, planning special events such as the free cherry cake and coffee and the appearance of an outstanding recording artist, along with alert merchandising by participating stores in the local newspaper, combined to make the day successful beyond our expectations."

Kendree cited The Post for its "outstanding contribution" to the success of the event through attractive advertising layouts and use of color in a special section devoted to the promotion.

He said that the public's response to the section was "overwhelming," and "certainly proved to us the effectiveness of newspaper advertising in a dynamic media like The Post."

342 Students On Westmoor Honor Roll

More Westmoor High school students were named to the fall semester honor roll than ever before.

A total of 342 students or 19.5 per cent of the student body was named. The freshman class was represented by 100 students, the junior class, 78, the sophomores, 80, and the seniors, 76.

Ten twelfth grade students had straight A's. There were two each from the tenth and eleventh grades and six from the freshman class.

Thirty students had five A's on their report cards. Achieving B averages, with no "D's or F's" were 293 Westmoorites.

By LE PACINI

EVERY MONDAY evening at 7:30, four good guys gallop across your TV screen and each week take turns being the hero while the other three get beat up.

The program is a western called "The Dakotas," and one of the good guys is known in real life as Mike Green. Mike is the tall, skinny one who acts like he should have been a basketball player.

Mike was a basketball player, which is why he's now acting.

Reason why I know all these true inside things about Mike is that we were kids together in the Portola district in San Francisco when Westlake was golf courses and drag strips.

I knew Mike Green when he was Myron Green, better known as "Feet" or "Snow Shoes" or "Toboggan Bottom" or various other names often used to indicate one has extra large feet.

Myron was one of those awkward, gangling kids — much like he is now — and I doubt that anybody from the old neighborhood ever took more ribbings.

Myron, who at the time wanted to be a basketball player more than anything else in the world — save, possibly, to be permanently unemployed — looked like a vaulting pole attached to tennis shoes. His footsteps would have paled the Abominable Snowman. Arthur Murray could have used them to give correspondence courses to astronauts.

Because of his feet, primarily, Myron's childhood, as I remember it, wasn't always a happy one. Nobody would let him in the playground basketball games unless they wanted to shave points. He always seemed to be tripping on himself or getting pushed around by smaller guys who knew that Myron wouldn't be able to catch them.

THUS MYRON became a rather problem child. He attended five San Francisco high schools but did well enough academically to eventually wind up at San Francisco State college.

By this time Myron was 6-6 and not so skinny anymore and even a little handsome.

I'll never forget the look on the face of Dan Farmer (State's basketball coach at the time) when he first saw Myron turn out for basketball.

Dan was elated. He had never before had a big man at State. He knew that I knew Myron.

"Can he help me?" Farmer asked enthusiastically.

"Sure," I said, loyal to the core. "If you're short on towel gatherers in the locker room."

But Myron did make the team — for appearance if nothing else — and even managed to get in some playing time. In fact, he was instrumental in winning a couple of games.

One thing that Myron was never short of, however, was brains. It was by now apparent to him that he would never make the Celtics — or maybe even the Boys' club — as a regular, and that he could never comfortably be permanently unemployed.

So he quit basketball, firm in the knowledge of at least one distinction — that probably nobody would ever be able to follow in his footsteps.

Meanwhile, State, which has one of the country's top drama departments, was producing "Guys and Dolls" and needed a big hunk of man to take the part of Big Julie.

On a lark, Myron tried out for the part and turned out to be a perfect type-cast for the role.

Thus Myron became interested in drama and suddenly had a direction in life — and the direction headed due south, to Hollywood.

MYRON WENT to tinsel land and got an agent. For a long while I lost track of him, but I knew Myron, probably, had caught enough full houses to be able to afford Hollywood without the starving-artist label. At one time there was a rumor he was being considered for the "Cheyenne" role, but Clint Walker got it. Judging from Walker's acting ability, I figure he won the role by beating Myron in a game of hunch.

And then one night, less than a year ago, I was watching a so-called pilot film of a projected western series called "The Dakotas."

There was this ethically depraved sheriff in it who looked familiar. In one scene in a bar room, the town boss got fed up with the sheriff's having suddenly developed a conscience, and pushes him around. During one push, the sheriff — unrehearsed, I'm sure — tripped on his own feet and toppled familiarly.

"That's Myron!" I shouted to my wife. With one exception I was right. It was now "Mike." After all, whoever heard of a rough and tumble cowboy named Myron?

THE PILOT film was purchased and Myron became an overnight star and will probably continue to be one as long as cameramen photograph him from ankles up.

That's the story of Myron Green. It's not the typical starving actor-type thing, but it is, I think, a genuine success story of a kid who had to overcome big feet, a low metabolism and luck at cards to make something of himself.

I always used to ask myself, what can a guy 6-6 do if he fails at basketball.

Now I know the answer. He can become a cowboy.

And if he has the guts and brains and gall enough to parlay height and a name change into a national television job, he will also have what it takes to be a fine actor, someday to camouflage big feet — as long as his press agent doesn't get ideas about Graham's Chinese theatre.

Four Carlmont Records Broken

Five former Carlmont track stars came back to haunt the Scots Monday as College of San Mateo spoiled Loren Lansberry's 1963 opener by a 78 3/4 — 34 1/4 score.

A total of four Carlmont field records were smashed by the powerful Berny Wagner-coached Bulldogs.

Former Scot Dave Kamrar bettered the 4:25.5 mile mark, set by Ben Tucker of the San Jose State freshmen in 1961, with his 4:23.6. Kamrar ran 1:29.0 against Tucker in that 1961 race and holds the Carlmont school record of 4:20.5.

Yesterday Carlmont soph Mike McCann showed future promise with his third place 4:25.8 behind CSM's Jim Huff (4:31.9) and Kamrar. Outstanding Highlander performance, however, was turned in by junior sprinter Andy Sears who won both sprints in good early season times of 10.0 and 22.1, beating ailing Bulldog Steve Firenze, 1962 NCS III champ, in the shorter race.

Westmoor Wins NPL Title

57-42 WIN

Jeff Stuns Warriors as Boden Stars

By RON BATES

The Jefferson Indians avenged the forfeiture of two previous victories last week by scalping a surprised South San Francisco team Friday night, 57-42.

The win eliminated the possibility of a tie for the North Peninsula league crown between Westmoor and the Warriors.

Jefferson's Dan Boden, playing one of his best games of the season, led a one-man assault against the Warriors. Boden, who was high man for the game with 21 points, scored 15 of his team's 26 point output in the first half.

The Indian hit most of his field goals from 35 feet out on overhead set shots. He also played a terrific board game in the first two periods. Jefferson led 26-14 at the midpoint.

Where Boden left off at the half, teammate Steve Willis took over. Willis hit 13 points in the second half to carry the brunt of the Jeff attack.

Warrior coach Joe Schroeder said "Jefferson beat us on the boards. The lead they built up was too big to overcome."

South San Francisco sharpshooters, Rich Mozzini and Dave Parenti, hit 17 and 16 points, for the losers.

Free Throws Beat Tigers In Last Tilt

The Westmoor Rams last Friday night showed all the jitters of a team fighting for a championship (they eventually won) by edging a scrappy Terra Nova club, 54-46.

The Tigers, although they bagged only 15 per cent of their shots in the first half, trailed by only four points at intermission.

Westmoor, however, came back strong in the third quarter and paced by John Kelly's 23 points wrapped up their eighth win of the season.

The Tigers outscored the Rams 14-13 in the field goal department but lost out on the free throw line and that proved to be decisive.

Westmoor bagged 28 charity tosses to 18 for the Tigers.

REBOUND—Jefferson's Dan Boden (52) and South San Francisco's Rich Mozzini (35) go up for rebound in Friday's encounter on the Indians' court. Jefferson won 57-42, upsetting the league-leaders and giving the Westmoor Rams a clear shot at the title. Warrior Bob Scherer (behind Mozzini) looks on. (Post-Times Photo)

Rams Defeat S. S. F.; Earn Tourney Trip

By MILT STAUB

The North Peninsula league basketball finale finally came to a close Monday afternoon at Westmoor when the poised Rams posted a 54 to 46 victory over South San Francisco and thereby earned the league's first championship.

The teams played but a single half, the abbreviated match resulting from a ruling passed down by league Commissioner P. J. Hannig.

Hannig had upheld a Warrior protest over the original game, won by Westmoor 61-40, and ruled the contest should revert to a 31-23 halftime count (with the Rams leading) and continue from that point.

The teams played to a precise standoff in the shortened game, each scoring 23 points.

Tony Giammona's charges thus become champs and will play for the first time in the annual Tournament of Champions, held this year in Palo Alto.

The high-flying Rams will play in the opening game at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Fighting vast odds, Joe Schroeder's gallant Warriors almost caught the Rams in the opening minutes of Monday's replay.

Westmoor couldn't buy a field goal until five minutes had elapsed and, in fact, managed but one during the entire third quarter. Rich Mozzini and Dave Parenti, meanwhile, hit consecutively to close the score to 28-32.

The third quarter ended with the determined Rams holding a shaky 37-34 lead and South City supporters roaring in anticipation.

Steve Schmuck of the Rams arched a 35-footer through the net to open the final quarter and added two free throws.

Mozzini and Parenti kept pace with field goals but this was the Warriors' dying gasp.

SHARKS BEATEN

El Camino Scores 2nd League Win

The pieces fell magically into place for season-long frustrated El Camino at the South San Francisco Gymnasium Friday night and the Colts romped to a 63 to 51 victory over the Oceana Sharks.

The outcome was in direct contrast to the previous match between the two teams when Oceana held the hot hand and triumphed easily.

Earlier in the week, the Commissioner's Office set the stage for the climactic basement struggle when it ruled that Jefferson had defaulted a game to El Camino by using an ineligible player.

This decision balanced the Colts and Sharks at identical 1 and 8 records.

The opening period was close, the lead changing hands four times before El Camino managed a 12 to 11 margin at the buzzer. Slender Shark forward Larry Kin-kade potted three baskets during this interval to hold his team in contention.

The powder keg exploded at the second-half tip-off. Moving into a surprise press, El Camino forced Oceana into repeated mistakes and, in a quick surge, Rod Aguilera, Walt Harris and Hal Westmoreland ripped five field goals through the net.

Shocked Oceana scored but one free throw during the barrage. This made it 42 to 24 and Colt Coach Gary Kenny then substituted freely.

Is the small car going out of the picture?

They're growing the new cars much bigger this season.

And to think that only a year or two ago, it was just the other way around.

For a while there, you could buy a car that you could actually park on the first try. And that didn't need power this and power that to get around the block.

We're going to miss them. And we think a lot of other people will, too.

Because we think there are people who still want to put a sensible amount of money into a sensible amount of car.

So prepare yourself: the 1963 Volkswagen is still exactly the same size.

And it looks exactly the same.

We still have parts to fit any VW ever made.

And the people who bought 1962 Volkswagens don't feel as though they're driving last year's model.

Maybe most small cars are going out of the picture. But there's one small exception.

Serra Bowl

THE AETNA ROOF Service team, checking in at a 787 average, blasted the wood last week at Serra for a mighty 3023 series in the current B.P.A.A. team tournament. Jim Hoyer led the boys with a fine 210-589 series as they used a hefty 477 pin handicap to good advantage by firing 894, 789, and 873 scratch totals—each game more than 100 pins over their average! When the smoke clears this effort should put the gang high up on the list of contenders in this event.

The same night young Gary Gil was racking up the strikes on the way to his big 299 game. Bob Green was plugging away unnoticed in the excitement; but when the scores were counted it was discovered that Bob had tossed a classy 244-652 series to edge Gary's by nine pins for high series honors.

Rex Golobec recovered well enough from a recent bout with the flu to blast the pins for a fine 247-621 series in the Monday night Pots and Pans league while his S.O.S. team whipped the 20 Mules for an easy 3-0 win.

Ron Andrews, bowling on team seven in the newly formed Magicians league, got off to a good start the first night as he toppled a mighty 243—620 total and led his team to a 3 game sweep over team five.

IN THE Metro Masters league, Serra Bowl was defeated 2-1 by the Burlingame Bowl. Bob Williams led the losers with 222—578 while John Schmidt paced the winners with a nice 236—623 score.

Ladies laurel this week goes to Flo Baxley for her big 204—470 series in the morning Domestic Engineers league. As a result her Nick's B & N Nursery team captured 2 out of 3 games from the Simplex Piston girls.

A brace of 230 games dotted other league action this week. High rollers in this category were Ed Newman 233 and 571 in the 828 Scratch league, Don Dawson a powerful 231—621 in the Sundowners, Fred Kell 231 and 591 in the 750 Handicap, Frank Puccini a fine 232—525 in the 775 Boozers, and John Zolti 230 and 537 in the 750 Masters league.

Sea Bowl

SATURDAY AFTERNOON the junior traveling league invaded the Sea Bowl and the results were terrific. Paul Regan 231—677, Dennis Jones 221—586, Jim Giestral 214—580, Jack Parker 212—586, Ken Woods 204—576, and Mary deBarbarie 215—574.

Westlake Bowl

OPAL RICHARDS led the Sue Scott Apparel team to a new high team series of 2698 in the Ladies 800 Classic as she rolled a big 243 game and 592 series. Previous holder of the high team series mark was the Avenue Lamp and Shade team with 2582.

In the Country Club handicap, Jack Mini cracked the six hundred barrier for the first time in his career with a 222 high game and 603 series.

Mildred Garrett continues to roll up the high scores, this time in the Tea Timers league as she bowled games of 210-160 and 194 for a fine 564 total.

By shooting all three games around the two hundred mark, Dewey Simmons took "bowler of the night" honors as he led the Sunshine Handicap league with a big 629 series on a high game of 219. Lola Robins was high shooter for the ladies with 179 and 503.

Leading ladies Monday were Juanita Barreani of Westlake Tow and Lola Gambucci of Spring Valley Meat as they led the Starlighters and Evening Stars league respectively. Juanita shot 203 and 483 while Lola posted a 193 game and 519 series.

JIM JOLLY once again made a return to form as he led the Westlake Bakery team with a 246 high game and 626 series in the Southgate Mixed Fives league while Joan Malley of the Westlake lounge team shot a 196 game and 468 series to lead the fairer sex. Betty Gregoire and Marie Ratto teamed to take first prize of $10 in the Monday Handicap Doubles with Jean Langhi and Anita Del Campo taking second place.

Ed Medina of the Southgate Cleaners team took top honors in the Westmoor Handicap with a 210 game and 562 series.

Two six hundred series were registered in the American Masters 900 Scratch league as Primo Liberator shot a big 245 game and 613 series while Tony Chickering had a 221 and an even 600 series.

THE ST. EMMYDIUS Mothers' Guild league found Roberta Perry taking both high game and high series honors as she rolled a 182 game and 468 series. Tops in the split converting department were Jane Perussia 2-8-10, Marilyn Krets 5-6, and Virginia Rowland 5-7. This is "Flying to Fashions" week as the North San Mateo county monthly Luncheon Fashion show combines travel with St. Patrick's day. Tomorrow will find the ladies from the area on hand for the monthly display of the latest fashions at 1 p.m.

Barry Langberg of the Evergreen Gardens team led the way in the Blue Monday 811 Scratch league as he bowled a high game of 203 and a 578 series.

Dick Hayes had two-thirds of a stepladder series in the 805 Scratch league as he shot 202 and 203 games on his way to a 582 series.

CSM Swim

Team Begins New Season

Golden Gate conference swimming competition begins Friday when College of San Mateo travels to San Jose City college for an afternoon meet with the Jaguars.

In the Northern California college, the Bulldogs finished sixth among 15 competing junior colleges and third among Golden Gate conference teams. As expected, powerful Foothill college dominated the meet with 112 points. Trailing were Menlo with 48, College of Sequoias with 48, Stockton with 35, Oakland 22, and CSM with 18 points.

Ed West, who has clocked 24.1 in the 50-yard freestyle and 55.9 in the 100, is one of only two returning veterans to the CSM swim team. The other sophomore is Harvey Gilmore, a backstroke from Sequoia High with 1:04.2 in the 100 and 2:28.1 in the 200 clockings.

Gilmore is the only backstroke on the team.

Although Giffin lost almost all his veterans, he has been blessed with a good contingent of frosh. Two freestylers with a great deal of promise, according to Giffin, are Jack Reading and Mike Smith.

Reading, a graduate of San Mateo High school, won the school's outstanding swimmer trophy in 1962.

Smith is a graduate of Hillsdale High school where he won a "most outstanding effort" trophy twice and took six Peninsula league medals. His best times are 24.2, 55.2, 2:04.5 (200), and 4:30.2 (400).

Other frosh freestylers are Al Ashby from San Mateo, Sequoia's Jim Camier, John Deahl from Menlo School for Boys and Hillsdale's John Curran.

Other members of the Bulldogs are Bill Glennon, breast-stroker from Woodside along with his breaststroking teammate Galen Rathbun, flystroke Larry Shane from San Mateo and diver Steve Hancock from Sequoia and Hawaii.

Jaycee and College Golf Fields Split

In order to accommodate the growing number of intercollegiate golfers, the Northern California Golf association will sponsor two separate tournaments during 1963.

Tournament chairman Robert D. Mowat announced that the NCGA tournament at the Pasatiempo golf course in Santa Cruz will be open only to four year colleges. The Pasatiempo tourney will be played on April 11, 12 and 13, 1963 with a practice round on April 10.

The first annual junior college western championship will be held on April 9, 10, 11 and 12, at four Fresno area courses, Belmont Country club, Fort Washington Golf club, San Joaquin Country club and the University-Sequoia Sunnyside club. Entries are expected from colleges in all western states. Prizes will be awarded for both individual and team competition at each tournament. Eligibility will be determined by local conference rules and the entry fee is $4. Complete information and entry blanks may be obtained through each college or at the NCGA office, 405 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

Pacific Offers Tennis Lessons

The Pacific Recreation department will offer tennis lessons for youngsters in seventh grade through adults beginning the first Sunday in March.

Any person interested in taking the classes should appear at the tennis courts at Oceana High Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The department will furnish the balls and all class participants should provide their own racquets. Tennis shoes are required to be worn on the courts at all times.

The fee for the class will be $3.00 for eight lessons. For information call the Park, Beach and Recreation department at FL 5-4151.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

I PROMISED you an all-in-one meal this week and this is one you will find different and delicious. It came from Mrs. Francis Anderson of 4076 Seventeenth street, San Francisco. Fran's husband is in the Navy and through the years she has seen much of the world, making her home at bases from Alaska to Guam. Wherever she went, she collected recipes and shared many of her own.

This cabbage, in its unusual presentation, was most favorably received in my family. And the fact that it held its shape and served so nicely made it fun for the cook.

This is a generous recipe and requires a large baking dish. Be sure to drain the juices from the baking dish before you turn it onto the serving dish. The gravy is very thin as it consists of the juices that cook from the meat and vegetable; the lemon juice and capers give it just the right tartness.

KOHL PUDDING (German Cabbage Pudding)

- 1 large head of cabbage
- 1 1/2 lbs. ground meat
- 1/2 lb. pork sausage
- 2 onions, chopped
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1 cup bread crumbs
- 1 can tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup capers

Cut cabbage in six pieces and cook in boiling water about 10 minutes. Mix meat with the rest of ingredients, excluding the tomato sauce, lemon juice and capers.

Melt one tablespoon butter in a large roasting pan and butter pan with it.

Arrange layer of cabbage in bottom of pan, next a layer of the meat mixture and alternate layers, ending with cabbage on top. Pour the can of tomato sauce over all. Bake in 325-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours.

Drain the juices from the pan and add lemon juice and capers. Serve along with the Kohl pudding.

IN THIS LIFE, three things are certain, death, taxes and an empty cookie jar in a large family. I can't do a thing to help with the first items but this should solve the latter.

OATMEAL COOKIES PLUS

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup white sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 1/2 cups rolled oats
- 1 1/2 cups raisins
- 1 pkg. chocolate bits
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Sift flour, soda and salt together. Cream the butter, gradually add the sugars, creaming well. Add the un-beaten eggs, beat well. Blend in the dry ingredients. Stir in the rolled oats, raisins, chocolate bits and nuts. Shape by rounded teaspoonsfuls into balls.

Place on an ungreased cookie sheet and flatten slightly with the bottom of a glass dipped in flour. Bake in 375-degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes until golden brown. This makes around 6 dozen cookies.

Fashion Corner

CONTRAST makes fashion excitement in the boldness of a large plaid colored in the softness of curly and white in this spring coat. A line silhouette is used to enhance plaid lines. The coat has bracelet length sleeves. It also comes in taupe and white or brown and white. Sizes 8 to 16, under $25. Black patent handbag is under $8. Both at J. C. Penney's.

Y Launches Membership Drive Here

The YWCA began a membership drive last week in three Bay Area counties.

Using the theme, "Your YWCA Membership Serves Your Community and the World," approximately 300 volunteer members will begin the drive in San Mateo, San Francisco and Marin counties.

Mrs. Emanuel Rapoport, chairman of the YWCA's membership development committee, which is coordinating the drive, said volunteers are distributing about 5000 posters, appearing on radio and television and carrying on person-to-person campaigns.

In San Mateo county, leaders of the drive are Mesdames Hal Fox, W. R. Sorenson, Michael Orlich, Dean DeWitt, Edward Raymond, Lewis Johnson, Thomas West, Robert Bell and Robert Washford.

YWCA activities in the county include classes for all age groups, bridge clubs, a bowling team, Y-Wives, and Y-Teen clubs.

Dance Group Offers Figure, Ballet Classes

Registration for classes in figure exercises and ballet for adults by the Westmoor Dance Group is now being offered, according to Mrs. Robert Baba, publicity chairman.

The classes will begin April 4, from 11 to 12 p.m., every Thursday, at the Broadmoor Community Center.

All the teachers in the non-profit school, including Macloria Ruiz, the instructor of the new classes, have been trained by Dick Ford, a well-known television personality on Channel KQED.

Enrollment in the figure exercise and ballet classes closes March 21. More information may be obtained by calling WY 2-0677.

Volunteer Workers Requested

The Volunteer Bureau of San Mateo county is seeking to fill a great variety of jobs in different agencies. No training is necessary for many of the jobs, but volunteers with special training and working experience can be placed where their experience will help the most.

Among current requests are the following:

RAVENSWOOD NURSERY SCHOOL—starting a new project where volunteers would serve as teachers' aides in such capacities as reading stories to groups, helping supervise outdoor activity, helping supervise snack time, putting out work material for special lessons, and helping teachers prepare materials for work activities. The work takes place from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 12:30 to 3 p.m.

MILLS HOSPITAL AUXILIARY—girls or women to give evenings or weekends working in the Gift shop and Snack Bar. Volunteers may join the auxiliary and purchase a uniform.

Additional information on these and other volunteer jobs open may be obtained through the Volunteer Bureau, 119 Primrose road, Burlingame. The bureau is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. It is a project of the Assistance League of San Mateo county and shares in the United Fund.

Memberships Are Awarded

Mrs. Orville Luster and Mrs. William Buser were honored by the Woodrow Wilson school P-TA at a founders day program. The two women received honorary life memberships for their service to the P-TA through the years.

Mrs. Ethel Hahn, principal of the school, discussed "Health and Education Around the World." She shared her talk on a recent trip.

They're in the Mail

FUCHSIA BALL INVITATIONS were mailed last week by three of the chairmen of an annual dance, sponsored by the Mary's Help Hospital Guild. The dance, planned for May 18 at the Fairmont hotel, has a theme, "Cornerstone of the Year." From left to right are Mrs. Fred Mortara, invitation chairman; Mrs. Jim Cummins, program chairman, and Mrs. Charles Boerio, decorations chairman.

Bolles Gallery Offers Frank Hamilton Exhibit

"Growth of an Artist," an exhibition of paintings by Frank Hamilton, is being shown at the Bolles Gallery at 729 Sansome street in San Francisco.

The showing is the fifty-third major exhibition at the gallery and is the sixth in the gallery's Discovery Series, originated in 1958.

Discovery exhibitions in the past have introduced such painters as William Morehouse, Joseph Romano, Sung Woo Chun and Howard Hack.

Hamilton was born in Tennessee where he received his early education.

After moving to San Francisco, he studied at Stanford university where he earned his bachelor's degree in 1948.

He began his work in the arts with ceramics. In this field, he held one-man shows at Gump's, the Palace of the Legion of Honor, Humboldt State College, the Richmond Art center and the Main Street Gallery in Chicago.

His interest in ceramics led him to study sculpture—a form

Philippine Women Join Sew Classes

Three sewing students from Iloilo City, Philippines, have enrolled in Mrs. Thelma Cain's children's clothing and beginning dressmaking classes in the Jefferson Adult Evening school.

Mrs. Natividad Penasales, Mrs. Asuncion Larios and Miss Virginia Cavanah have been studying under Mrs. Cain for the past five months. They plan to stay another six months to learn new sewing and tailoring techniques. They plan to teach in the Philippines.

Mrs. Penasales noted that in the Philippines women do not use patterns to work from as they do in the United States but must improvise by looking at photographs in magazines. All three students are staying with Mrs. Gloria Sibayan who lives in Colma.

Two Comedies Featured in San Francisco

Elizabethan farce and ultra-modern comedy are the contrasting bills of plays offered for the next three weeks by The Actor's Workshop in San Francisco.

In Marjorie's theater, Mason and Sutter, the comedy, "Volpone," from the uninhibited days of seventeenth century England is being presented nightly Wednesdays through Sundays and 2:30 p.m. matinees on Saturdays. It is The Workshop's fifth major production of the current season.

At the Encore theater, Mason off Geary, a double bill of Harold Pinter plays, "A Slight Ache" and "The Dumb Waiter," enters its final three weeks with performances on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. The plays are the work of the author of "The Birthday Party" which ran in the same theater and on tour by The Workshop for more than three years.

Mary's Help Alma Trio Guild Picks To Perform Ball Theme

"Cornerstone of the Year" is the title chosen for Mary's Help Hospital Guilds annual Fuchsia ball at the Fairmont hotel May 18.

Proceeds from the fund-raising event will go to Mary's Help Hospital Building fund. The new hospital will be located in the southern part of Daly City.

Mrs. Warren L. Price was named chairman of the dance. Assisting her will be:

Mrs. Albert I. Fambrini, co-chairman; Mrs. Charles Boerio, decorations; Mrs. Alexander Perilli, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Vollert and Mrs. Thomas Pope, reservations; Mrs. Fred Mortara, invitations; Mrs. Dino Tonelli, publicity; Mrs. T. Caldrola, honorary chairman, and Mrs. James Cummins and Mrs. A. V. Costantini, program.

Advertising on the sponsor program may be placed by calling Mrs. Costantini at LO 4-0265 or Mrs. Cummins at JU 5-2770.

Sunday at 3 p.m. and Monday at 4 p.m., the Creative Arts division of San Francisco State college will present the Alma Trio with Ferenc Molnar as guest violinist.

The trio, organized some 11 years ago, is so named because it was founded at the Alma Estate of world famous violinist Yehudi Menuhin in the mountains of Santa Cruz.

The group has developed a fine international reputation through its travels, which include tours to Alaska, New Zealand and Australia and many trips from coast to coast.

The program will consist of works by Beethoven, Brahms and Ravel. Both performances will be in the main theatre on campus.

VFW Auxiliary Sets Program

Old Glory Post and Auxiliary 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, have scheduled a full round of activities this month.

Members of the auxiliary will act as volunteers in the final phase of the K.O. Polo drive Sunday. The sewing group will meet Tuesday at the home of Louise J. Crowley.

The post and auxiliary will meet March 21. Past commanders and past presidents will gather March 23 in the officers' club, Fort Mason, to celebrate the post's thirty-third birthday.

Riding Group Holds Raffle

The Sea Horse Riders, members of the Junior Horseman association, will be selling raffle tickets for a new portable television set tomorrow and Saturday in the Westlake Shopping center.

Proceeds of the raffle will go to buying uniforms for the children in the club. The drawing will be held May 12.

Tickets may also be purchased by phoning PL 6-5994 or VA 6-1755 or by writing the Sea Horse Riders, 593 Lausanne avenue, Daly City.

A contest for the highest ticket salesman is open to anyone, according to Barbara Heffron, an active member of the group. A two-year-old filly will be given the winner.

Pack Starts Den

Daly City Cub Pack 62 have started a Webelo Den under the leadership of Joseph Funes, assistant cubmaster.

Boys attending the new den are John Abigana, Gary Bender, Gary Garcia, Donald Heisch, Gary Hansen, Michael Kelly, John Morgan and Michael Person.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

CURRENTLY recuperating from what must have been the worst week in her life is Mrs. Louis A. Tricerri of Lausanne street in Daly City.

The hectic week commenced when a dropped cigarette almost caused a fire in the Tricerri car while the family was on a Sunday outing in Marin county. Later in the week, the car was badly damaged when another auto, backing out of a parking space, struck it broadside. Mrs. Tricerri, who was alone in the car, escaped with minor injuries.

Climax of the week came Thursday when an acid Mrs. Tricerri was using to clean her house splashed into her eye, burning off several eyelashes but causing no permanent injury to the eye itself.

THE FRIENDS of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cerdau of San Carlos are invited to be the Cerdau's guests at an open house Friday at pier 35 in San Francisco.

The event, scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m., will precede the couple's departure to Hawaii.

THE BROWNIES of Troop 182 are preparing for their Fathers' and Daughters' banquet to be held March 18 at the Golden Gate Yacht club in San Francisco and a Mothers' and Daughters' tea on a date to be announced.

Even though the banquet and tea plans have kept Brownies Nancy Benone, Diane Lipman, Joan McDermott, Karen O'Neill, Debbie Ostrow, Mary Ann Buch, Judy Weingarten, Michele Nessler, Susan Houghton, Cathy Lamp, Pat Ghiselli and Debra Ross very busy, the girls have managed to have some fun as well. The girls visited Suto's Ice rink in San Francisco for an afternoon of skating.

APRIL 23 has been selected by the women of Holy Angels Catholic church for their annual rummage sale. Many bargains will be on sale that day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the National Guard Armory, Fourteenth and Mission streets in San Francisco.

People with rummage they wish to contribute to this sale are asked to contact Mrs. James Sharpin, chairman, PL 5-9711; Mrs. Cornelius Dempsey, WY 2-5287 or Mrs. John Desmond, WY 2-5243.

A RUMMAGE SALE also is planned in the Pacifica area at the Eureka Shopping Center March 29-30.

Mrs. Helen Fields, EL 9-0634, is beginning to collect rummage for the sale to be sponsored by St. Edmund's Episcopal Mission on Seville drive in Pacifica.

YESTERDAY was of special importance to the 33 kindergartners in Mrs. Marian Schwabacher's class at Colma K-6 school.

As a follow up to dental hygiene week, the class toured the dental offices of Dr. Peter Brewer and Dr. Gregory Genovese in Colma.

Mrs. Edith Lowe, Mrs. Julia Jimenez and Mrs. Sue Bertini accompanied the class to assist Mrs. Schwabacher.

NEWLY WEDDED Mr. and Mrs. Myler Kenneth Moore Jr. (nee Kathleen Macklin) are now at home in their Forest Grove apartment in Westlake.

The Moores were married in Reno, February 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Buckley Hyers of Westlake attending as matron of honor and best man.

Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Atkinson Macklin of Colma. The groom is the son of Mrs. Suzanne Sheldon of Westlake and Myler Kenneth Moore Sr. of Sunnyvale.

MRS. PAT CASSALNUOVO, Mrs. Frances Moreschini, Mrs. Terry Luzzi, Mrs. Carol Meyers and Mrs. Ruth Lapachet were among those enjoying themselves most at a recent trip to the Rolladium. The women, all mothers of girls in Brownie Troop No. 355, enjoyed the afternoon of skating as much as their daughters.

FIFTY-SIX PACIFICA residents attended a Card and Bingo party for CARE which was sponsored by the Pacifica Federated Women's club last Tuesday evening at Terra Nova High school.

Mrs. Elsie Gibson, chairman, reported that $79 was raised for the CARE program.

Mrs. Helen Minishew and Mrs. Kaye Kirkland were in charge of bingo tables. Mrs. Marlis Matheus was chairman of refreshments. Also assisting Mrs. Gibson were Mrs. Alice Boyette, Mrs. Orpha Kibler, Mrs. Jeanette Cortes and Mrs. Florence Lorenz.

MRS. DAVID ELLISON of the Pacifica Federated Women's club has announced the group is now accepting applications for scholarships offered annually by the club.

Boys and girls now in their senior year of high school or young people already enrolled in an accredited college or university are urged to apply for the funds, which cover the cost of tuition and books for a year.

To be eligible, students must live in the Pacifica area, be high school seniors or college students, be active in student affairs, and have a need of financial assistance.

Anyone interested should write to Mrs. Ellison at 202 Naomi drive, Pacifica or club president Mrs. Fred Balieu, 830 Alta Vista drive, Pacifica, prior to Easter week.

In the four years since the Pacifica club was chartered, it has aided six students with funds raised at annual fashion shows. According to Mrs. Ellison, all applicants to date have been young women but the scholarships are available to men as well.

Susan Lee Ross, Anthony Mezzetta Plan Fall Vows

Susan Lee Ross, 215 Indio drive, Francisco High school and the South San Francisco, and Robert Anthony Mezzetta, 516 Poplar avenue, South San Francisco, have announced their engagement.

They plan a September 15 wedding at All Souls church in South San Francisco.

Miss Ross is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ross. She is employed by a Bank of America branch in Colma.

Mezzetta attended South San

Colonial Dames Will Gather in S.F. for Session

The California State Society Colonial Dames XVII Century will gather at the Women's City club in San Francisco on Friday and Saturday for a state conference. Chairman Gladys Phillips of San Jose has announced that newsmen Edward Montgomery will be the guest speaker at the banquet. His topic is "Unpublished News Facts."

Sue Nicewonger of Los Altos will provide the entertainment at the Saturday luncheon with light opera selections.

Delegates to the conference from the Anne Hutchinson chapter will be Mesdames John Melbin, A. Oliver Ninteman, Roland Wilford, Grady Davis and Lawrence Gholz.

The organization was founded in San Francisco at the meeting of the International Genealogical congress during the 1915 Panama Pacific Exposition. Membership is restricted to those who can claim one or more ancestors who migrated to America before 1701 and participated in the establishment of its democratic principles.

Y Fashion Show Set Tomorrow

Reservations for the YWCA "Flight to Fashion" show at the Westlake bowl from 1 to 3 tomorrow afternoon are still available.

The Fashion, a women's apparel store in the Westlake Shopping center, and Bloom's Fine Shoes, also in the center, will preview some of their latest fashions.

The Fashion has donated a $25 gift certificate as a door prize. More information may be obtained by calling PL 6-7370.

Students Teach At Vista Mar

Four student teachers from San Francisco State college began their initial teaching at Vista Mar elementary school this semester.

Carlene Carr is working with kindergarten teacher Mary Wade. Nancy Magee and Virginia is working with the first grade with resident teacher Mrs. Helen Boyle and Mrs. Paula Shepard. Dell Walters will work in the second grade with resident teacher Mary Helen Monroe.

Language Class Set At Olympia

A Spanish foreign language program is being started at Olympia Elementary school, according to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, parent co-ordinator.

Classes are held every Monday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Gerald Burchard, faculty assistant in foreign languages at San Francisco state college, will be the teacher.

Mrs. Burchard received her master's degree at the University of California in languages. She also attended the University of Mexico.

Parents interested in the program may call Mrs. William Jabin at PL 5-2949 for more information.

Student Art Featured at School Store

Student art work, which has been on display in the Westmoor High school library, will become a new feature to the school's campus book store.

The store, organized by the students, will house various works of students.

The small room welcomed its first collection, arranged by art teacher, Selwyn Jones, last week. It featured silk screen prints by the drawing and painting class.

Student artists included Bob Foster, Cathy Lynch, Leslie Mertens, Cheryl Ogden and Ron Pappas. Also on display were the works of Rosanna LaBruzzo, Cal Costa, William Burdort and Larry Ettit.

Further displays including one in oils, are planned by Jones and art teacher Robert Nissen.

Wives to Hear Table Decor Demonstrator

The Y-Wives of Westlake will learn some table decorating techniques at a meeting at the Westlake bowl from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Monday.

June McGowan will show the Y-Wives how to make table decorations, which will be featured at the Y-Wives Area conference April 4.

Theme of the conference is: "The Women in Her World." A fifty cent fee will be charged at the meeting for facilities, coffee and tea and nursery service.

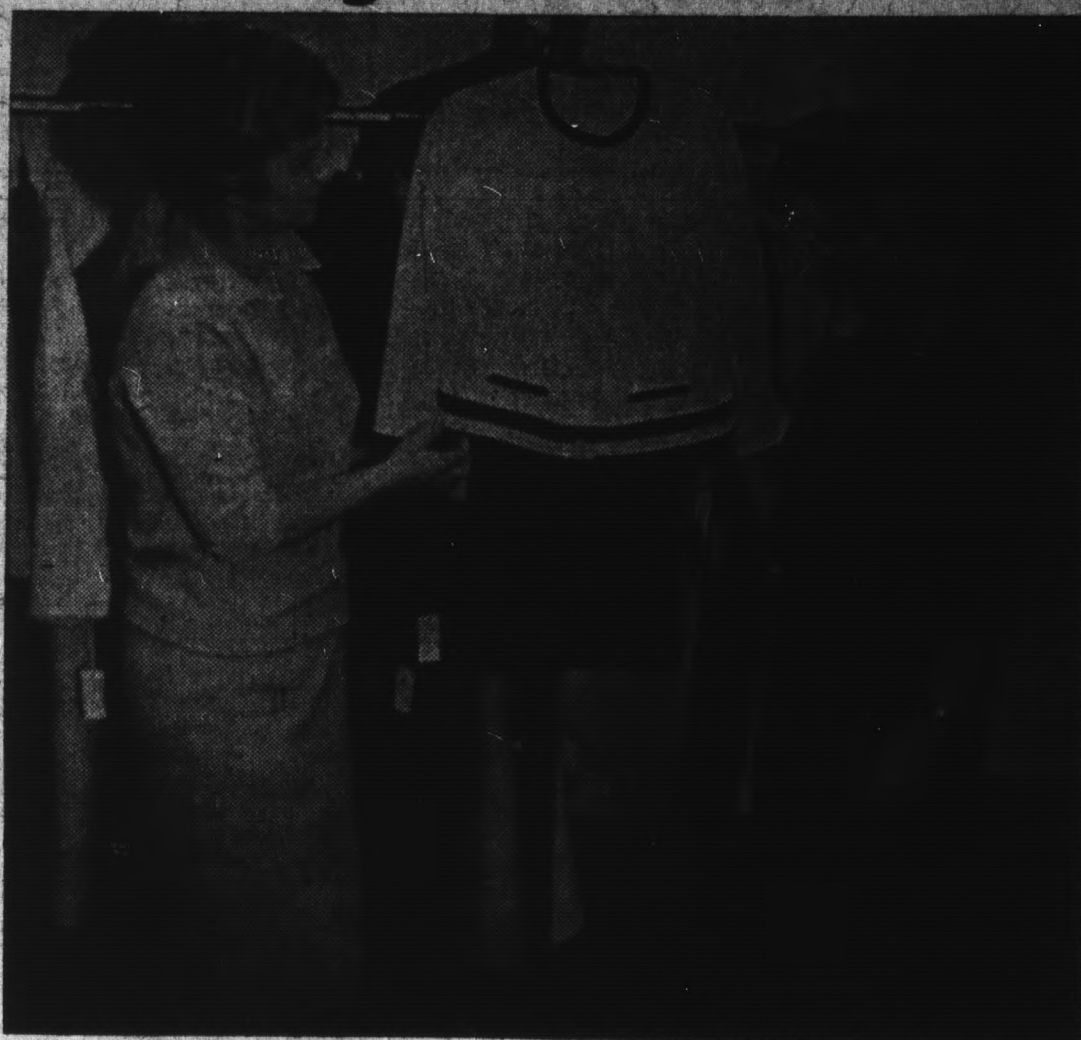

Resident Visits UC Workshop

Dolores E. Wert, of 59 Pinehaven drive, Daly City, took part in a public relations workshop held at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley.

Mrs. Wert, who is chairman of volunteer activities for the San Francisco County Republican central committee, was one of more than 300 representatives of business, government and community organizations who attended the workshop.

The one-day conference was presented by University of California Extension and was designed to provide a broadened understanding of the procedures and requirements of the press, television and radio in carrying news of organizational activities and events.

Flight to Fashion

Berkeley Puppets to Be Seen at Sanchez

The Berkeley Puppeteers will set up their traveling puppet stage at Sanchez school Saturday for performances of "Coyote-Animal Tales from American Indians" at 1:30 p.m. and at 2:30. "The Princess and the Flute Player."

"Coyote" features two Indian animal legends. Coyote is known by various names in different Indian languages but appears as both a mischievous and god-like figure in them all. The Berkeley Puppeteers undertook extensive research at Indian reservations and museums along the Northwest coast. They studied folklore, and authentic mask and totem motifs upon which they based the puppets' design and the production's staging.

Medical Books Given Westmoor

Six hundred pounds of medical literature have been donated to the Westmoor High school science department.

The books were willed by the late Dr. T. E. P. Gocher to Dr. John Hyde, brother of Westmoor counselor Robert Hyde. Upon conferring with his brother, and in turn the science department, Doctor Hyde felt that the books would be of most benefit to the school.

Because of the expense involved in replacing such books and due to the highly technical material covered in them, they are available to students only as research material for advance projects.

GET HIP!! — Westmoor students Stacey Casulo and Ralph Hens tell soda jerk Steve Malmuth to "Get Hip" and fix them a popular ice-cream concoction at a frequented sweet shop near the two schools where they are studying.

Four Students Compete for Scholarships

Four Westmoor High school trophy winners will compete for cash awards up to $1000 in the annual Bank of America Achievement program.

Principal Glenn South announced the Westmoor winners and the study fields in which they excel. They were chosen by members of the faculty.

Kenneth Lehre, science and mathematics, Kenneth Gates, fine arts, Marilyn Wagner, liberal arts, and Patricia Marks, vocational arts, are the candidates who will enter zone competition, April 2, in San Mateo.

Six other students were cited for superior performance in specific fields of study. Westmoorites Eugene Poggio, mathematics, Jack Petranker, social studies, Ann Irby, foreign languages, Paula Hershberg, home economics, Richard Fields, industrial arts, and Deborah Pearl, art will receive certificates of merit.

Records of the trophy winners will be carefully reviewed by a screening committee of civic, business, and professional leaders. After the preliminary screening, the four seniors will compare for cash awards ranging from $150 to $1000. Second and third place winners in each field at the zone event will receive $50 and $25 awards.

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA AND PACIFICA

Westside Baptist Will Hold Quarterly Meeting

The Westside Baptist church will hold its quarterly business meeting Wednesday at Southwood school.

The program will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a fellowship potluck dinner.

Thursday morning at 10, the Women's Bible study group will meet at the home of Mrs. Alice Sturdevant, 111 Adrian avenue, South San Francisco.

At 2 Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jim Besser, 500 Del Monte avenue, South San Francisco, junior department Sunday school teachers will give a party for boys and girls in their classes.

Sunday morning at 9:45 a.m., nine Sunday church school classes will convene. At the 11 a.m. morning worship hour, the Reverend A. David D. C. GIRL ENTERS CONTEST

Sylvia Werner, 25 Oakmont drive, Daly City, is one of 14 young ladies competing for the title of Queen Esther in the 1963 Jewish National Fund's Annual Purim festival.

The festival and Queen Esther coronation will be held at the Fairmont hotel Saturday, starting at 7:30 p.m. Miss Werner is sponsored by Westlake Hadassah.

Methodists Study Book of Romans

The Faith and Life Mission of Wesley Methodist church is continuing a program of visitation and study of the Book of Romans in the Bible.

A series of sermons dealing with evangelism is scheduled.

The Methodist men will start clearing the church's new land Saturday in preparation for a land dedication ceremony Sunday, March 17. The ceremony previously had been scheduled for March 24.

A membership class for senior high school students and adults will be held at the church parsonage, 1325 Southgate avenue, Saturday, March 16 and March 23 from 11 to 11:50 a.m.

A membership class for children will be held this afternoon and March 13 and 20, beginning at 4 p.m.

New members of the church will be received Easter morning.

Pancake Event Draws Crowds

Short stacks, tall stacks and still more stacks of piping hot hotcakes, sausages, coffee and chocolate proved reason enough for a large enthusiastic turnout last Tuesday evening when St. Martin's church again held its annual Shrove Tuesday pancake supper.

B'nai Israel Sets Service

A mother and daughter Sabbath service will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

The service will be dedicated to the holiday of Purim, which will be observed Sunday.

Rabbi Solomon Shore will speak on Purim, the story of the Jewish survival. The girls of higher grade Hebrew classes and Sunday school will share the pulpit with Rabbi Shore.

Saturday evening a Purim Fun Night is planned by the B'nai Israel Sisterhood. Mrs. Gary Papellbaum and Mrs. Julius Michaelis are chairmen. The event will be held in the social hall of the Temple, 67 Los Banos, Daly City at 8 p.m.

Sunday morning, starting at 10:30 a.m., a Purim service will be offered with the reading of the "Megillah," or the story of Esther. Children will be given traditional gragers or noise makers with which to heckle the wicked King Hamman.

Society Plans St. Pat's Fete

Our Lady of Perpetual Help church's Holy Name society will sponsor its annual St. Patrick's Day dinner-dance March 16, in the school hall auditorium, 60 Wellington avenue, Daly City.

Dinner will be from 6 to 8 p.m. The menu will include chicken saute (with an Irish flair), potatoes au gratin, mixed vegetables, tossed green salad, red wine, French bread and dessert. Door prizes will be given lucky ticket holders. Dancing will be from 8 to midnight.

What's Doing At Westmoor

By SHERRY ROSEN

THANKS TO Teddy Roosevelt and JFK, looks like another wild fad has swept the nation—and Westmoor high. Attempting 50-mile hikes over the hills of San Francisco has become even more popular than telephone-booth-crowding and the recent coloring book craze.

Now in the ranks of the physically fit is W'moor's U.S. history teacher Alvin Wolf, who boasts a record of 14 hours and 10 minutes for 50 miles. Although about twelve brave souls (including another WHS instructor who shall remain anonymous) started out from Park Emergency Hospital at 5 a.m., only the indomitable Mr. Wolf completed the route mapped out by newsmen. When asked for comments the next day, the limping faculty member ruefully replied, "Color me pooped."

RAMS OF THE WEEK: First entry to the Ram Hall of Fame for unsung heroes is Mrs. Lindfors' journalism class, which has been quietly provided rosters all year for the home wrestling matches and basketball games, doing all the mimeographing and distributing on their own.

Also honored this week is Darold Fredericks of the science department. Fredericks has been taking color photos of biology experiments with mice to record the students' progress.

His color pictures of P.E. activities and games should prove as helpful to posterity as they are to the P.E. department now.

SNIPS AND SNAILS: Seniors have ordered graduation announcements for their June date with the diplomas, while juniors received their long-awaited class rings last Friday.

New ruling by the executive board has made it unlawful for an underclassmen to be in any way supported by the Seniors Bench. This action was the result of the student court acquittal on her boy friend's lap was not actually sitting on the hallowed bench... the board also voted to purchase an electric scoreboard for the Ram football field.

DOTS 'N DASHES: Female Rams had an unexpected treat last Thursday for P.E. in the form of a lecture on charm. The girls were entranced as the charming guest, Mrs. Coleen Hoffman, demonstrated the subtle art of walking, sitting, and—of major importance getting into a low sports car gracefully... panel of five W'moorites who represented WHS at the recent Human Rights Conference at Asilomar spoke of their experiences to an audience of Junior Statesmen, American Field Service and Ad Lib club members... WHS Spanish club is now officially known as "Los Amigos."

Sisterhood Slates Show

Members of the Peninsula Temple Beth El's Sisterhood will present their donor luncheon-fashion show in the Peacock court of the Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco Tuesday.

"Fashions d'Elegance" will be modeled by these Sisterhood members:

The Mesdames Sidney Bass, Milton Davidson, Irving Feldman, Robert Jacobs, Herbert Joslin, Ferdinand Kohner Jr., Fred Leavy, Don Paul, James Salle, David Sterling, Noel Waxman Jr., Jerome Weinstein, Irving Windish and Harry K. Wolff Jr.

Special buses will leave the temple at 1700 Alameda de las Pulgas, San Mateo at 11 a.m. and return at approximately 3:45 p.m. A baby sitter will be available at the temple.

Scholarship Honor Given To 13 Seniors

Thirteen members of the senior class earned life membership in the California Scholarship Federation (CSF) as a result of their fall semester grades.

The seniors are Marilyn Downey, Paula Hirschberg, Michael Hunter, Ann Irby, Marguerite Jarchow, Richard Katz, Laurel Kimbrell, Carol Kirchman, Kenneth Lehre, Virginia Maches, Gloria Moore, Jack Petranker and Marilyn Wagner.

To become a member of CSF, a student must receive 10 points a semester (three points for A and one point for B) four times, once as a senior.

may be obtained from Mrs. Oscar Simon, 2 Clark drive, San Mateo, DI 2-5170.

The efforts of nearly half a million men were required to dig the Panama Canal.

Census Bureau figures indicate that only 3 per cent of the population spends an entire lifetime in one dwelling and only 15 per cent remain in the same county throughout their lives.

CAN BRING THROGS OF EAGER BUYERS
TO YOUR STORE - 34,192 FAMILIES

Good shopping center planning, hard-hitting ads, combined with effective in-store promotion by individual merchants . . . backed up by the professional services and established readership of THE POST, made this Washington's Birthday Cherry Cake Day one of the most successful one-day events in the Westlake Shopping Center's history. THE POST color cover page alone, advertising free cake and coffee, was credited with pulling thousands of visitors. Many merchants who tied in with their own individual ads saw their stores filled to near capacity throughout the day.

THE POST can do this kind of job for your store. We're at 30 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, WY 2-2262. May we sell for you?

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

Cannons roared, boats careened and crowds cheered. Daredevil parachuters fell from the sky into the sea, carrying colored smoke flares.

A baby elephant refused to water ski, a German band sauerkraut music and an all-girl pelted another crew with vegetables.

Sounds like an Olsen and Johnson routine, doesn't it? Well it wasn't. It all took place Sunday off the shores of Tiburon and it was officially known as the second annual water festival of the Volunteer Auxiliary of San Francisco's Youth Guidance Center.

Better is should have been called the second annual mayhem convention on San Francisco Bay.

We won't say things were confused. They were simply totally disorganized.

The cannons were fired by rival crews on the 60-foot ketch Shearwater and the 70-foot ketch Viveca. It was all part of mock battle in the spirit of pirates and the good guys.

Naturally, the cannons fired blanks (the sponsors insisted) and nobody was sent to the bottom of the bay (also at the insistence of the sponsors.)

Although the cannons were firing only blanks, they made a whale of a racket. It's a wonder the citizenry of San Francisco didn't rush down to old Fort Point to prepare for an invasion.

We don't know who won the battle but it ended in a furious barrage of vegetables, hurled by the all-girl crew of the Viveca.

As if all these nautical goings-on weren't enough to ogle, the sponsors also threw in a dandy aerial show to boot.

All manner of people kept falling out of the sky, carrying mares. The space travelers were parachute stuntmen whose special forte was falling free (without opened parachute) for what seemed like eternity before pulling the proper cords.

It was a rather remarkable exhibition of jumping for there were formidable obstacles below—a vast fleet of sail and power craft that had assembled for the show.

But each skydiver (five altogether) fell neatly into or near his assigned spot of the bay without shearing off yardarms or plummeting jib sails.

All in all, it was quite an afternoon—even if you didn't know what was going to happen next—or why—or just exactly where.

COAST CHATTER—Pacific's Mayor George Mason wasn't kidding the other day when he said he thought the City Council held too many meetings that were too long, took up too many items and were too busy.

At last week's regular council meeting, his Honor got so involved in the proceedings and the pace of things that he had a lighted cigarette and cigar going at the same time in an ashtray.

Looks like it would have been a great plug for a tobacco company.

Mason's criticism of the number of meetings, by the way, has resulted in a change in Pacifica.

The council last week decided to abandon bi-weekly study sessions since, as members agreed, no official actions could be taken at them anyways.

MORE CHATTER—Some say it was inevitable and others argue it wasn't but it's on its way up now. "It" is that gas station that Pacificans have been boiling over for the past several months at Linda Mar boulevard and Adobe drive.

Contractors last week started digging at the site, across the way from the historic Sanchez Adobe, and the Union Oil company, the target of neighbors' wrath, should be pumping gas in the near future.

Whether they'll sell any is another matter for the neighbors have vowed a boycott of the station.

ABOUT THOSE LETDOWNS—Westmoore basketball Tony Giamonna grew paler and paler the other night as he watched his Rams fumble through the first period of their game with Terra Nova.

The Rams had been beaten by South San Francisco in a "must" game a week prior and Giamonna could just about see "letdown" lettered all over his players' jerseys.

It's an old story in sports, of course, this business of letdowns after the big game.

"I don't know what you can do about it," Giamonna acknowledged. "You get the boys up for one game and then try to keep them up. It's not easy."

The Rams went on to beat Terra Nova, thereby giving them a tie for the lead in the North Peninsula league.

But it took a letdown someplace else to do it. The Jefferson Indians the same night whopped South San Francisco, 57-42, and Warrior Coach Joe Schroeder must be wondering along with Giamonna what the key is to keep the boys riding high after the "big" one.

NO PARKING HERE—Hoorah for the trustees of the Jefferson Union High school district. They indicated the other night that student parking at Jefferson High school (now non-existent) isn't planned in a reconstruction and expansion program now underway at the school.

There just isn't any room, is the word. Even if there were, we would hope the trustees would stand fast.

After all, it seems to use that if you can't walk 50 miles, you can at least walk to school. End of walking commercial.

B'nai B'rith Women Will Offer Annual Cavalcade

The San Francisco Council of B'nai B'rith Women will offer its annual cavalcade March 14 at 1 p.m. at the Painters and Decorators Hall, 2215 Judah street, San Francisco.

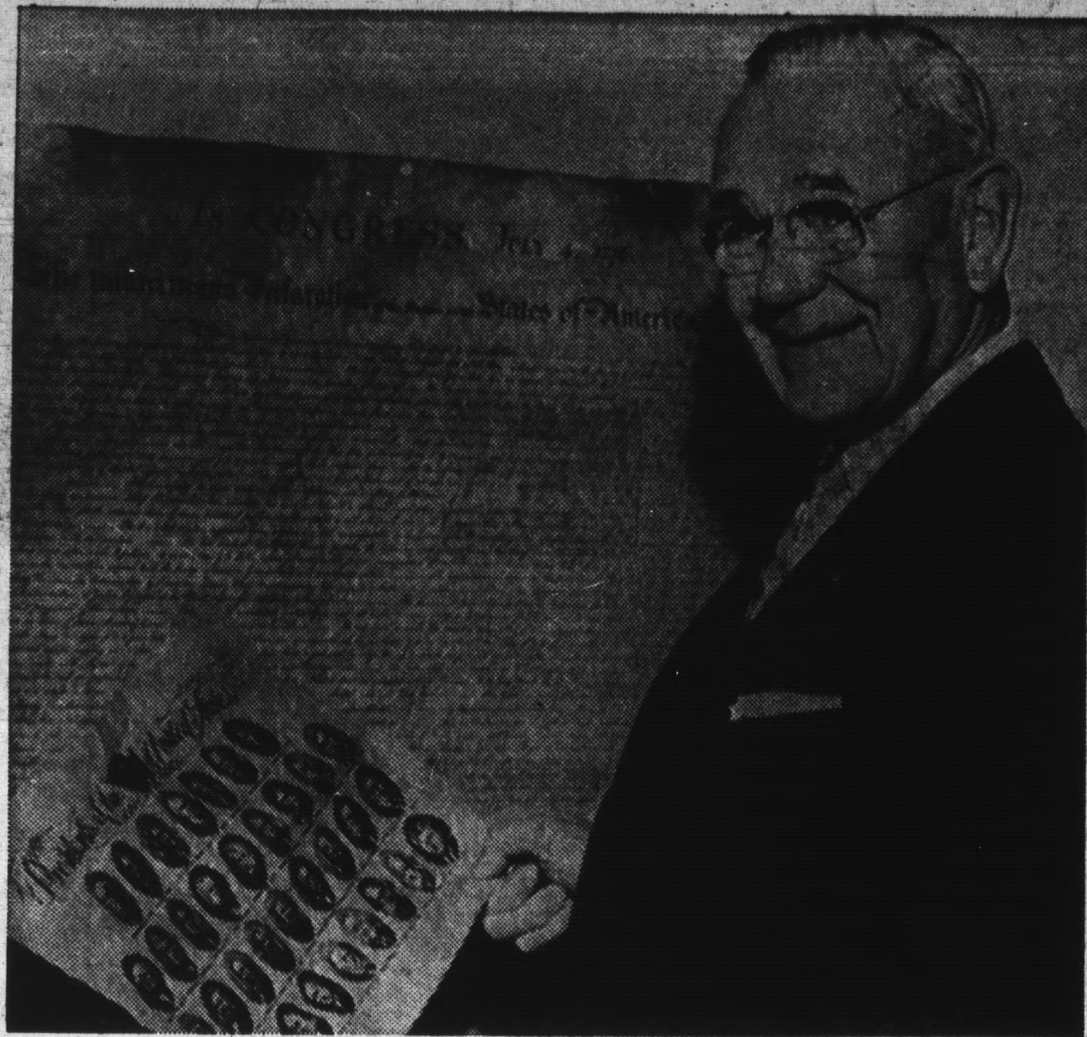

A musical entitled, "The Over-subscription Fiesta In The South American Manner," will be presented by women from five San Francisco area B'nai B'rith chapters.

Donations received at the Cavalcade will be divided between the B'nai B'rith Youth Organizations, Anti-Defamation League and Hillel agencies.

Honored guests and principle speakers will include: Mrs. Harry Tauber, district 4 B'nai B'rith president; Harry Strauch, Hillel Director; Harvey Moss, B'nai B'rith Youth Organization director, and Stanley Jacobs, anti-defamation League director.

The public is invited to attend and refreshments will be served. Mrs. William Bass is chairman.

CONGRESSMAN J. ARTHUR YOUNGER examines Portraits of the Presidents, one of the historical documents offered for public sale by

The Post-Times. In the background is an oversize copy of the Declaration of Independence, also available in reduced size.

Younger Lauds Document Offer

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has congratulated The Post and The Times on the public offering of American historical documents which they are making available to San Mateo county citizens.

"I am happy to add my voice to Post-Times' campaign to remind Americans of the part the cherished documents of American history should play in our lives. They are constant reminders that democracy has not come easy. It is an inheritance to which we all owe a mounting debt. We can not live under these guarantees of our freedom without assuming the obligations which attend our reception of all the benefits of being born an American," Younger declared.

The congressman visited The Post-Times' plant to view the documents available, which at present are The Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights, Gettysburg Address, portraits of the presidents, and the Constitution. Others will become available each week.

The price of these historical documents is 25 cents each. You can obtain your copies of the documents by writing: Documents The Post, 30 Park Plaza drive.

Coast Teachers To Attend Meet

Laguna Salada teachers Bob Brown, Rod Linhares, John Logan, president-elect Norman Sanger and president Roland Finken of the Laguna Salada Teachers association will attend a special meeting March 30 at the California Teachers association headquarters, Burlingame.

The conference is titled "New Dimensions for Your Local Association." Joint sponsors of this event are the CTA Bay section and the Bay section department of classroom teachers.

Keynote speakers will include Dr. Arthur Corey, executive secretary state CTA and Hugh Page, executive secretary Bay section CTA.

Two Injured In Car Crash

A mother and her six-year-old son suffered minor injuries Saturday in a two-car collision at Junipero Serra boulevard and Ninth street, Daly City.

Jacquelyn L. Foster, 27, of 360 Lake Merced boulevard, driver of one of the cars, suffered a neck injury and was treated at Junipero Serra hospital.

Her son, Gregory, was treated at the hospital for contusions and abrasions. Police identified the driver of the other car as Walter J. Martenson, 31, of 20 San Miguel avenue, Daly City.

Jaycees Plan Open Meeting

All men between the ages of 21 and 35 are invited to an informational meeting to be conducted by the Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce April 2 in the Sky Blue room of Hamms' Brewery, San Francisco. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

The purpose and activities of the junior chamber will be outlined. Further information and transportation arrangements may be obtained from Jack Green at PL 5-9377 or PL 6-9830.

WINDOW BROKEN—Walter Gouzen of 201 Peoria street reported to Daly City police that vandals threw a rock through the windshield of his auto while it was parked in a supermarket lot.

Ehrlich Raps S.F. Hearing

Attorney J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich accused the San Francisco police commission of being "cold blooded and arbitrary" during a hearing on unofficial charges last week against San Francisco Patrolman John F. Steffan.

Ehrlich angrily made his charges after Harold McKinnon, commission chairman, refused to allow him to read a statement the child had given to San Mateo county authorities.

Criminal charges against Steffan were dismissed by Judge Charles Becker in northern district municipal court in South San Francisco February 20 on the grounds the girl could not understand the meaning of telling the truth.

When Ehrlich asked the little girl, "Do you know what happens to naughty girls when they don't tell the truth?" Deputy Police Chief Al Nelder objected. He was sustained by McKinnon.

"I thought we were going to have a trial here," Ehrlich replied. "I'm shocked. I just want a fair deal."

Steffan, a resident of 803 Beechwood drive, Broadmoor Village, was accused of the offense while babysitting with the child.

Oceana Conducts TV Experiment

A five-week pilot research program on classroom closed-circuit television is being conducted at Oceana High school.

Demonstrations of glass cutting, sewing, phonetic French, and science experiments have been given to students by television. A magnified image of subject matter is projected on classroom screens and each student obtains a close-up view.

Teachers will compare and evaluate results through a series of tests at the end of the program.

Layton Jones, head of the science-math department at Oceana, is primarily responsible for the experiment in closed-circuit television.

Jones is studying for his doctorate in "science education by television." He became interested in the field while studying at Stanford's Radio and Television Institute. He also has worked as a director and producer of television shows.

Cupertino High school in Sunnyvale is the only other high school in California now using closed-circuit television.

Dage corporation has loaned a camera and two television sets to Oceana for the experiment.

A demonstration is planned for the school's parent-teacher association March 14. Oceana High school will hold an open house March 15.

Cars Towed at CSM Campus

Traffic jamming being what it then towed another four from the College of San Mateo parking lot last Wednesday, so other vehicles could get through, and blocked both lots, officers said.

Hyatt House Mid-Month Restaurant Addition

One of the outstanding Chinese restaurateurs in the West will open a new, beautifully decorated, tastefully designed Chinese restaurant at the Hyatt House in Burlingame. Johnny Kan, who has won a host of national awards and who is recognized as the foremost exponent of Chinese cuisine in this country, will open "Johnny Kan's at the Hyatt House." Featuring the finest in Cantonese cooking, plus an international variety of drinks, this new restaurant will be open for dinner only Tuesday through Sunday and will be located on the mezzanine floor in the area occupied by the Executives' Club at lunch. Mr. Kan, along with Hyatt House Manager Ed Sullivan, invites you to enjoy wonderful Chinese delicacies which will be presented about mid-March. Put the Piccadilly down for special Lenten dishes: ditto, Keith's Chicken and Steak House. A fellow walked into the Skylark restaurant and asked for a glass of water from Manager Bob Roberts, then walked out with it. The man needed it to work down a small batch of plaster mix — he was fixing up the facing outside.

The beloved Australian "Wattle," Acacia baileyana, is The Post Plant of the Week. Used as a tall hedge in front of the John B. Damonte home, 1716 Hillman Avenue, Belmont, the Acacia acts as a shield to keep street noise and dust at a minimum and at this time of year it offers a mass of fragrant, golden bloom. Acacia baileyana is one of nearly 100 species of Acacia that have been tried out in California for use as street trees and as garden ornaments. Out of this number some 20 varieties are listed as really practical for garden use. Most all of these will tolerate considerable heat but cannot take much in the way of frost and cold. The moderate temperatures of the Peninsula are ideally suited to their needs.

Acacia baileyana is the most popular and widely planted of all the Acacias. Its fine, feathery, blue-gray foliage is most attractive at all seasons of the year. Then, in late January the tiny golden balls of fluffy flowers provide a bright contrast to the usually gray days. The flowers are followed by brown seed pods that drop and cause a bit of clutter. Anyone planting an Acacia should realize that they have a relatively short life span which averages about 30 years. They have a shallow, spreading root system that frequently makes them fall victim to windstorms during the rainy season. Also as the tree grows older the wood becomes brittle making it subject to splitting.

On the credit side of this tree is its ability to tolerate alkali soils and considerable drought. It is also relatively free of both insect pests and diseases. However, Acacias are known to be host plants for thrips but spraying spring and fall with DDT controls this problem. Acacia baileyana is a fast growing tree that can be used to fill in between slow growing, long lived trees for quick results. This Acacia will grow from 11 to 12 feet a year when first set out. This slows to an average of 25 feet in six years with an average adult height of 30 feet and a spread wider than the height.

The rapid growth of the young trees causes a need for pruning and shaping of the head during the early years. This rapid growth also calls for care in watering, after the newly planted tree is established. Provide only a minimum of moisture after the first year. Acacia baileyana can be planted in sun or shade, in heavy or light soils, along the coast where salt air is a problem or in inland gardens. It, like many other very tolerant plants, however, grows best in a light, fertile, well-drained soil. It does need protection from strong winds but, if this cannot be given stake carefully and check the stakes and ties each fall in preparation for winter storms.

The Acacia gets its name from the Greek for point or thorn in allusion to the many thorny species. Acacia baileyana does not have thorns. In Australia this Acacia is known as the "Cootamundra Wattle." A second variety of Acacia baileyana known as A. baileyana purpurea is much the same except the junior foliage has a distinct purple to lavender cast.

Rotary Slate Is Nominated

The Daly City Rotary club has nominated a slate of officers and directors that will be voted upon at a club meeting Wednesday, March 20, in the Westlake Bowl. The list of candidates was drawn up by a nominating committee and unanimously approved. These members were nominated:

Harty Rasmussen, president; Roy Hully, vice president; Paul Huff, secretary and Bob Ellis, treasurer.

Nominated for the board of directors were Vinton Stratton, Max Kurtz and George Riba.

TIRES, WHEELS STOLEN

William L. Towes of 472 Abbott avenue reported to Daly City police over the weekend that thieves had stolen both tires and wheels of his car, parked across the street from his home. He estimated loss at $62.

Bank Names Dougherty

B. H. Dougherty, 26 Clifton drive, Daly City, has been appointed vice president in charge of business services activities by the Bank of America.

He will work out of the bank's main office in San Francisco.

Dougherty has been with Bank of America since 1951, holding positions in Southern California until 1956 when he was transferred to the bank's systems and research department.

In 1958, he was named manager of the bank's data processing center in Los Angeles. He came to the San Francisco main office in 1960 and was named chief analyst for computer systems.

Dougherty is a past committee member of the Electronic Association of Management.

Meeting on Transit Set

Exponents of a monorail system for the Peninsula are to be invited to a meeting with the San Mateo County Rapid Transit committee March 18.

Supervisor William M. Werder, committee chairman, said representatives of the monorail interests will be asked to describe their plans for the system.

Also on the agenda is a report from Howard Looney's transportation subcommittee. Looney said a representative of the Haas and which proposed to build the monorail system, was invited to a meeting of his group February 21. But no one showed up, he said.

The March 18 meeting will be at 3:30 p.m. in the county Hall of Justice in Redwood City.

Meetings of the committee, which was formed after San Mateo county withdrew from the Bay Area Rapid Transit district, were discontinued several months ago until after the highway bond election, then scheduled for April.
